

TEXAS WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
CAMPUS SECURITY ANNUAL REPORT
January 1, 2010 through December 31, 2010

The following information is provided to better inform University students and others. The information conforms to the requirements of the "Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act".

ORGANIZATION

Campus security is outsourced to Securitas and reports to the manager of security operations. The security office is located at 3220 Avenue A, Fort Worth, Texas.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Campus security officers are on-duty at the law school during operating hours. All facilities are secured after hours. In the event of criminal or suspicious activity or persons, the police or security should be contacted at the following numbers:

- If emergency police service is required, 911 should be called, prior to notifying campus security.
- If non-emergency police service is required, contact Fort Worth Police, 1100 Nashville St., Fort Worth ,TX 76105, (817) 335-4222
- Campus Security: 4911 or (817) 531-4911 (answered 24 hours per day).
- Law School Security: 817-212-3999

FACILITY ACCESS

The building is secured nightly by campus security. The schedule of closing varies based on normal hours of operation and scheduled activities. Students or visitors are not allowed in the building after hours. Campus security will escort any unauthorized person from the building. Criminal trespass could result in arrest.

CAMPUS SECURITY AUTHORITY

Campus security and/or the Fort Worth Police Department will respond, as appropriate, to any and all calls for assistance. Campus security officers are unarmed and do not have police powers. Campus security will defer any criminal investigation or situation, which may involve an arrest to the Fort Worth Police Department. The designated associate dean of the law school administers student disciplinary matters.

ORIENTATION, TRAINING, CRIME PREVENTION

The Campus Security Department's success depends on the support and assistance of the campus community. Any suspicious persons, behavior or activity must be reported promptly. Students, faculty and staff must ensure their safety and the safety of their property by practicing fundamental crime prevention techniques. To that end, security will provide orientation sessions at the beginning of the fall semester for students as needed. Safety and crime prevention information will be published, periodically, in available campus publications. Security shall accommodate any request for training or additional information.

TIMELY WARNINGS

In the event of a pattern of serious criminal activity or an egregious event, the University shall issue alerts to the campus community. These alerts must be approved by the associate vice president for administrative services and human resources.

SEXUAL ASSAULT POLICY

The University believes that students and employees should be able to study and work in a safe environment. Reports of sexual assault on campus or assaults alleged to have been perpetrated by University students or employees shall be taken seriously and promptly investigated. Furthermore, the complainant shall be advised and encouraged to report the assault to the proper law enforcement agency.

The University, through the School of Law's Student Services Office, shall sponsor preventative educational programs that also encourage students to report sexual assaults. Programs are open to all students and employees.

If a student is the victim of a sexual assault, he or she is encouraged to immediately report the assault to the associate dean of law students and administration, dean of students, director of the health center or campus security. Campus security may be reached twenty-four hours per day by calling (817) 531-4911. Every effort should be made to preserve the alleged crime scene and any associated evidence.

Once it is determined that a sexual assault has occurred and an investigation is completed, the University may impose sanctions up to and including expulsion against the parties involved. The accuser and the accused shall be entitled to the same rights or opportunities as offered through the normal disciplinary process. Both shall be informed of the outcome of any campus disciplinary proceeding.

Counseling and victim assistance is available through the rape crisis hotline by calling (817) 927-2737. The University will also offer free counseling to victims of sexual assault through the counselor's office located at 3008 Ave D on the main campus. The counselor may be reached by calling (817) 531-4859. Information shall be held in strict confidence.

The University will work with victims, whenever possible; to change academic and on-campus living situations because of alleged sexual assaults.

ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE POLICY

The Alcohol and Drug Abuse Policy is published in the Student Handbook, Faculty Handbook and Staff Handbook.

STATISTICS

As required, the following statistics are provided for the preceding three-year period. The following offenses are reported: murder, manslaughter, arson, sexual offenses, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary and theft of a motor vehicle. As required, offenses are separated by location: on campus, in or on a non-campus building or property in use or controlled by the University, on public property adjacent to the University, or in University residential facilities. In addition, the University is required to report on campus arrests for the following offenses: liquor law violations, drug abuse violations and weapons possession. Reportable offenses that may also be categorized as crimes of prejudice shall be footnoted. Those crimes must manifest evidence of prejudice based on race, religion, sexual orientation or ethnicity.

Statistics are compiled using campus incident reports, and information received from the Fort Worth Police Department's representatives. The law school does not have student housing or facilities housing off-campus student organizations.

This report applies to the school of law campus located at 1515 Commerce Street in Fort Worth, Texas. The campus is defined as property either controlled or owned within the same reasonably contiguous area, and used by the institution in direct support of, or related to, its educational purpose.

DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION

The security manager will provide the annual report. In addition, it will be published in appropriate handbooks and disseminated to students and employees. Any questions should be directed to the associate vice president for administration and human resources or the appropriate law school dean.
